30 Killed, 45 Injured In Air Crash

British Plane Goes Down In African Forest

KANO, Nigeria — UP — A British airliner crashed and burned in the African forest on takeoff from Kano airport Sunday night, killing 30 of the 45 persons aboard.

Minister of Transport Harold Watkinson told the House of Commons in London that only 10 passengers and five crewmen survived the flaming crash into the trees. A spokesman for the British Overseas Airways Corp. confirmed a final total of 30 dead.

The pancake landing onto the tree tops saved the survivors.

The four-engined airliner burst into flames when it crashed into some trees three miles from Kano runway outside this ancient walled city of Moslem sheiks.

Airport officials said the plane apparently climbed into a storm cloud as it labored for altitude on takeoff. It lost height and mushed into the Nigerian forest.

The pilot, Capt. Herbert Tomlinson, 36, an RAF bomber pilot during the war, pancaked the plane nose high into the treetops in a crash landing that cushioned the impact. He survived.

A BOAC spokesman said 11 passengers and five crewmen survived out of the 38 passengers and seven crew members aboard.

Most of the passengers were British or Nigerian, the victims included stewardess Kay Buckley, 30, of County Cork, Ireland, and steward L. A. Ward.

Tomlinson lifted the Canadian-designed Argonaut off Kano runway at 5:22 p.m. Sunday en route to Tripoli across the Sahara desert and to London. Minutes later that plane smashed to earth.

Boac said the passengers included 12 women and nine children, three of them infants.

80 Rebels Killed By French In Big Mountain Mopup

ALGIERS (AP)—The French today reported killing about 80 rebels, most of them clad in army uniforms, in a big mopup operation in the Aures Mountains of southeastern Algieria.

French forces began encircling the band, estimated to number 200 or 300 men yesterday near the town of Edgar-Quinet, in a desolate area that has been a strong rebel hideout ever since the rebellion started nearly 20 months ago.

The fighting was still going on in an effort to annihilate the band, the French said. About 50 rifles and three submachine guns have been seized so far.

Closer to the coast, around the city of Constantine, the French claimed at least 23 rebels killed.

To the west, an estimated 16,000 French troops forged ahead with Operation Pigmy, designed to seal off the frontier with Morocco. There was no report of the rebels killed and wounded, although the French said they had taken 63 prisoners. Eight French soldiers were reported wounded.

Algiers' population of more than half a million was in a high state of tension after attacks last week by rebel flying squads operating out of the Casbah, the teeming native quarter. Five Europeans were killed.

Temperature In Area Is Climbing

The temperature at noon Thursday was 91 and climbing toward the sweltering 96 of Sunday, which set the record high for the year, according to CAA at Selman Field.

The low for Thursday was a warm 74.

Forecast for today is partly cloudy with a few isolated thundershowers through Tuesday. Low tonight will be 72 to 70 with high tomorrow of 92 to 96.

Twining Tells Soviet Chiefs:

U. S. To Disarm Only If Controls Are Worldwide

MOSCOW (AP)—Gen. Nathan Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff invited to Moscow to see the latest in Soviet aviation developments, has told his hosts the United States will not disarm until it is certain of worldwide controls.

WRITER DIES — Michael Arlen, popular novelist of the roaring 20's and said to have been one of the few men to become a millionaire by writing, died in New York City after a long illness. He was 61. His most famous work was "The Green Hat." (AP Wirephoto.)

Twining, his aides and British and French air force chiefs were among foreign guests yesterday at the Soviet Aviation Day show in which the Russians unveiled three new types of fighter planes and a new jet-propeller transport.

It was the first time U.S. and British air chiefs witnessed the annual display.

Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev told the foreign guests and newsmen the show omitted new heavy jet bombers because "we wanted to emphasize defense, not offense."

The new models shown included (1) three delta-wing day interceptors assumed capable of supersonic speed, (2) two "advanced type" day fighters of a model called "Farmer" by U.S. airmen and first shown last year, (3) two improved all-weather fighters of the type labeled "Flashlight" by Western observers, also shown in the original version last year, and (4) a single assault-type, twin-engine turboprop transport which can operate from short, unimproved runways.

In all, the crowd of more than 200,000 at Tushino Airport saw about 120 fighters, 40 helicopter transports and only 16 bombers fly over. Last year's show featured 73 bombers.

Western experts said none of the new aircraft was unexpected. They added that the show included nothing startlingly new.

But Twining called the display "very interesting and successful." He said he hoped to examine the aircraft in more detail during his inspection of Soviet air installations and factories in the coming week.

At a garden party at the Soviet Army Club after the show, Soviet leaders proposed repeated toasts to disarmament and world friendship. When his turn to speak came, Twining said forthrightly but politely;

"We know what war means and my country has proved through the years we are a peaceful people. We always got into wars very late.

"After the last war we disarmed completely. That, gentlemen, is disarmament. We had to build up our forces again at Korea—and we are not going to reduce them again until we are sure of worldwide arms controls."

He was applauded by diplomats and air force delegations of Britain, France and the United States.

During the entertainment, Khrushchev said to Twining, "You probably are very interested in our rockets and ballistics missiles. We will show you all you want to see. You would like to see them, wouldn't you?"

Twining nodded.

Admiral King In Grave Condition From Weak Heart

KITTERY, Maine (UP)— Fleet Adm. Ernest J. King, who led the Navy from defeat at Pearl Harbor to victory in World War II, was reported in "grave" condition today.

BULLETIN

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (AP)—Fleet Admiral Ernest Joseph King, U.S.N., who directed the mightiest sea force the world has ever known in vanquishing the navies of Germany and Japan in World War II, died today in Portsmouth Naval Hospital after many years of failing health. He was 77.

King was stricken with a heart attack early Sunday. He sank into a coma Sunday night.

State Maintenance For Urban Extensions Sought

The city council Tuesday will be presented with a proposal that the state highway department pay for maintenance of urban extensions through Monroe, Wayne Huckaby, commissioner of streets and parks, announced Monday.

Huckaby, listed the urban extensions as U. S. Highway 165, State Route 15, state route 594, and state route 840-6.

U. S. highway 165 comprises portions of Jackson, Layton, Catalpa, North Fourth and the Sterlington road and state route 15 through the city consists of portions of South Second and all of Winnsboro road to the city limits, Huckaby said.

Interstate route 594 consists of portions of Texas avenue and all of Milhaven road to city limits, while state route 840-6 consists of portions of North 18th street, Forsythe avenue and Loop road, he continued.

The state would take over maintenance July 1, if the city council approves the proposal.

The state highway department would pay the city each year $7,269.52 for surface maintenance; $11,100 for sweeping, cleaning sewers and ditches; and $4,290 for maintenance of traffic lights.

The city would collect a total of $22,659.52 each year for maintenance costs, he added.

The city has been maintaining this work at city expenses, Huckaby stated.

One problem the city council will have placed in their hands Tuesday will be the sewer line break at the intersection of Dick Taylor and Mouton streets which Huckaby describes as a "major repair project."

Huckaby said that it will be a top project because failure is in a main line sewer — 36-inch diameter pipe.

"The pipe is about 18 feet below the surface of the ground and it is the main line sewer, carrying sewerage from portions of the city as far north as Bres avenue. Repairs will have to be approached with care and caution, due to both cost and the fact that the flow of the sewerage cannot be interrupted."

Huckaby said the leak, which caused an 18 to 20 foot cave-in during April, was either due to corrosive gases or the action of quicksands.

The pipe is more than 30 years old, he stated.

A man is on duty 24 hours and his prime purpose is to see that the pump operates at all times, Huckaby said.

The city council is scheduled to make final adoption on some ordinances of assessing property owners on certain streets for paving.

Ike Decides To Visit Panama In Late July

Postpones Talk With Nehru For Republic Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower decided today to visit Panama City July 21-22 for a meeting with the presidents of other American republics. But he postponed scheduled July 7-10 talks with India's Prime Minister Nehru.

Eisenhower had been scheduled to be in Panama City today for a conference with the chief executives of other American republics, but the intestinal illness which put him in the hospital June 8 forced postponement of those plans.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told a news conference at Walter Reed Army Hospital that Eisenhower now has sent word to the government of Panama saying that he accepts an invitation to be in Panama City July 21-22.

At the same time, Eisenhower agreed to postponement of his scheduled July 7-10 talks with Nehru at the suggestion of the Prime Minister. The plan had been for the President and Nehru to confer at the President's secluded Mountain lodge near Thurmont, Md.

Hagerty made public a Nehru message to Eisenhower. The Prime Minister told the President that he feels "the program of our personal talks should not impose.

Man Fights 17 Miles Of Water To Bring Rescuers

NEW ORLEANS — UP —A man whose chest muscles were ripped in a holdup five years ago swam and waded 17 miles through marshlands yesterday to bring rescuers to his brother and six children.

Merrill Mura, sales representative for a grocery chain, was in a boat with his four children, his brother, Malcolm Mura, Malcolm's son, and another boy, when it grounded at Goose Point at 1:30 p.m.

Merrill swam and sloshed his way for Lacombe, 17 miles away. Twelve hours later at 12:30 a.m. today, he called a Coast Guard station here.

A Coast Guard cutter had the boat floating at 2:20 a.m. today and the party returned to Rabbit Island.

Merrill was injured seriously on Sept. 18, 1951, when he was stabbed by a holdup man in New Orleans. He was cut on the hand and a four inch gash ripped his chest during the struggle. The holdup man escaped.

Angered VA Employe Kills Boss, Self

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A Veterans Administration counsellor, apparently angered because his superior complained of his work, shot the chief to death today then committed suicide, police said.

Chief of Detectives M. B. Pierce identified the men as:

James W. Lann, 40, of Amory, chief of education and training. He died of a bullet that passed through his body and lodged in the ceiling of the VA office hall.

DeWitt Laird, 49, of Jackson, the counsellor, found sitting in his automobile clutching a pistol with both hands. He was shot in the mouth.

Tom Payne, chief of vocational rehabilitation and immediate superior to Lann and Laird, said the two had worked together for more than 10 years.

He said Lann had complained recently to him about Laird's work. Police said they believed the shooting stemmed from the

Pro-U. S. Party Loses Ground In Iceland Election

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Iceland's Conservative Independence party, which wants to keep American troops on this strategic Atlantic island's NATO bases, lost ground in yesterday's parliamentary election.

The alliance of Progressives and Social Democrats, sponsors of the drive to oust U.S. forces from the big Keflavik air base and other installations, almost won a clear majority in the Althing (Parliament), a preliminary count indicated today.

For the first time in the Althing's 1,000-year history more than 90 per cent of the 90,000 qualified voters cast ballots. The results appeared certain to be another coalition government, since neither the conservatives nor their opponents captured a clear ma-

British Judge Shot In Head, Neck By Rebels

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Two gunmen shot a British judge in the head and neck today as he sat in his guarded car in a crowded Nicosia street. Justice Bernard Shaw, who has sentenced three Cypriot rebels to death, was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

The two gunmen approached the car, leaned forward and fired twice. Shaw slumped over in the seat. His bodyguard leaped from the car and blazed away at the two gunmen, who made their escape in a small car waiting nearby.

Shaw had been about to go home for lunch from a special court where he presides over cases brought under the state of emergency which Britain has proclaimed on Cyprus.

Immediately after the shooting police roped off the area of the attack in the Armenian quarter inside the walled old city.

Showdown In House

Gas Gathering Tax On Last Trip Today

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Gov. Earl Long, fighting for his tax bills, brings up the gas gathering tax increase today for a last chance at House passage.

And the House may see another dogfight over Long's proposal to take the job of Louisiana insurance commissioner away from the secretary of state.

The 1½ cent per 1,000 cubic feet increase in the gas gathering tax, dedicated to a teacher pay raise already okayed by the Legislature and the governor, failed 64-35 in its first try last week. A tax measure requires 68 votes — two thirds.

Rep. Horace Lynn Jones of Calcasieu Parish said the gas gathering tax would be brought up for its last try today.

Long, personally directing the floor fight, saw his boost in the racetrack betting tax killed last week, despite an unheard of third vote on the bill. It missed by one vote on the third try.

The gas gathering tax is written so it would not take effect until passage of a companion measure, providing refunds to Louisiana industrial and domestic natural gas users.

The tax, compromised from 2½ to 1½ cents, would raise an estimated $18,750,000. The refunds would trim the net take for the state to $10,500,000.

With the governor watching, and occasionally directing his leaders, the House rejected 34-58 a surprise effort last night to introduce a 16 million dollar appropriation to pay teachers their salary.

Last Friday, the House rejected another effort by tax raise foes to insert the same appropriation in the general appropriations bill.

Chandler Says:

Kentucky Demos Hard-Pressed To Stave Off GOP

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Democratic Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky said today Democrats will be hard pressed to stave off Republican bids for his state's two Senate seats and Kentucky's 10 electoral votes if President Eisenhower runs again.

Chandler, who considers himself a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said in an interview that he believes Eisenhower is "just as personally popular" today as he was four years ago when he lost border state Kentucky by only 700 votes.

"If the President thinks he is up to running again, the people will take his word for it," said Chandler, here for the 48th annual Governors Conference opening today.

"If the President runs we will have a hard time holding on to our two Senate seats and keeping the state Democratic. There is some disaffection among farmers, but Eisenhower is just as popular personally as he was four years ago."

Chandler's estimate of Democratic chances in his state paralleled in some respects the analysis of Democratic Governors Averell Harriman of New York, Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and C. Mennen Williams of Michigan in their politically critical states. But Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee said he is certain Eisenhower won't carry his state again.

Democrats hope to retain their hairline control of the Senate.

Harriman said his party can carry New York against an Eisenhower-headed GOP ticket "only if

APPEAL TODAY

BATON ROUGE (AP) —The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. today planned to appeal an order to slash telephone rates in Louisiana.

BULLETIN

BATON ROUGE (AP)—With Gov. Earl Long quietly watching without comment, the House today dealt a final death blow to the gas gathering tax raise.

The vote was 65-34 for the proposed 1½-cent increase in the one-cent gas gathering levy, three short of the 68 required.

All tax raises require two-thirds vote for passage.

Rep. John Garrett, Claiborne Parish, made the "clincher" motion that killed the bill finally, by moving to reconsider the vote by which the bill failed to pass and to lay it on the table.

Long Reveals Mystery Fund For Inquiries

Hints Look-See Into Press, His Administration

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Earl Long revealed he wants the $100,000 mystery fund for legislative probes of state government, with former Gov. Robert Kennon's regime a possible target.

Kennon, who has been silent on political matters since leaving office May 15, commented:

"The last administration was carried on in a way that was beneficial to the state. All that was done was for the good of the state. I would welcome any investigation that would give a fair report of our accomplishments."

In a rapid-fire news conference while he sat in the House of Representatives, Long also said:

1. He probably will address an informal joint meeting of the House and Senate next Sunday, "to rehash what we have done and haven't done."

2. His administration will reshuffle his proposed timber tax raise to squeeze out another $500,000 with even higher timber severance rates. But Long will abandon his plan to knock out property tax exemptions granted growing timber.

While Kennon and Long have been political foes for years, Long, discussing the proposed investigations, said there will be "no persecutions or injury of anyone.

"We don't accuse anyone of commiting any crime," the governor asserted. "The commission will investigate anything we think should be investigaged.

"We don't know what subjects would be investigated, and we hope they don't find anything wrong, but if there is any wrong.

Possible Loss Of Overseas Bases Cited In AF Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said today possible loss of overseas air bases by this country is an important reason for the Senate to approve a billion-dollar increase in Air Force funds.

"The truth is that our overseas bases are becoming less and less reliable to support our air-atomic power. . . . From Iceland to Okinawa, key strategic bases are now under political attack," Jackson said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

Jackson contended that if the overseas bases are lost, more B52 long-range bombers capable of operating from this country will be needed to deter the increasing Soviet strategic air power.

The principal issue, as the Senate debated the big Defense Department appropriations bill, was whether—and how much—to increase the funds President Eisenhower asked for the Air Force.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, while cutting slightly some sections of Eisenhower's 15½-billion-dollar Air Force budget, voted to add $1,160,000,000 for additional planes, bases and manpower.

The committee raised the bill's

Marilyn, Arthur Take To Hills; Flee Reporters

ROXBURY, Conn. (UP)— Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller took to the hills of Connecticut late Sunday night. Their marriage appeared to be a day or two off.

They fled New York for the lanky playwright's country home, in the foothills of the Berkshires, after an elaborate but unsuccessful attempt to escape the reporters keeping a nuptial watch on Miss Monroe's apartment.

All day Sunday rumors in New York had the actress and the writer marriage bound within hours, but a spokesman for Miss Monroe said "for several reasons" there will be no wedding for at least three days.

There were reports that, to further insure privacy, the couple have left Miller's farm home at Roxbury for a hideaway further into the hills.

They were chaperoned from New York by an older woman, thought to be Miller's mother, and two small children, believed to be Miller's son and daughter.

Fire Destroys Landmark Of E. Carroll; Damages Estimated At $15,000

LAKE PROVIDENCE, June 25 (Special) — A fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed a rural grocery store located nine miles north of Lake Providence about 1:30 a.m. today, according to Fire Chief W. L. Hughes.

The alarm was turned in by a Negro tenant living in the rear of the store. It was answered by the Lake Providence volunteer fire department, but the blaze had gained so much headway before being discovered that attempts to save any of the building's contents were futile.

The store, known as Bow's Grocery, was operated by J. S. McKenzie, of Lake Providence.

McKenzie estimated his loss in merchandise and fixtures at approximately $15,000, a small portion of which was covered by insurance.

The building itself was an old East Carroll landmark and had long been known as the "Nine Mile Store." It was the property of F. H. Schneider, Jr. Value of the building could not be ascertained this morning.

Sterlington Youth Is Arrested After Truck, Car Crash

A 19-year-old Sterlington boy was charged with reckless driving Monday following a loaded gravel truck-car collision near the Sterlington - Monroe- Bastrop intersection that injured one person, state troopers reported.

Ray Wayne Maxey, driver of the car and stationed with the Navy at Long Beach, Calif., has been placed in the parish jail on charges of reckless driving and causing an accident, investigating officers said.

Thomas B. Routon, 20, Sterlington, a passenger in Maxey's car, was hospitalized at Conway memorial hospital with cuts and abrasions and a possible fracture of the leg, state troopers said.

State police reported that Maxey, going north on the Sterlington-Farmerville road, came around the curve at a high rate of speed and smashed into the left front end of a loaded gravel truck going south driven by Clyde J. Haley, 28, West Monroe.

The car was demolished and the gravel truck, owned by A.M. Haley, West Monroe, was damaged about $700 or $800, troopers estimated.

Long

doing, we hope they'll report it."

To a specific question whether any investigation might touch phases of the Kennon administration, Long replied: "It can."

Long insisted investigations might even be made of his own administration.

When the House passed the 347-million-dollar general appropriation bill last Friday, it included the mystery - shrouded $100,000 as a special fund for the attorney general's office. But the money will be drawn only with approval of the governor.

House foes, guessing at intent of the $100,000, warned it might be used to probe the Kennon administration. But Long's floor leaders insisted no criminal probes were intended, that the money probably would be used to probe "retirement funds."

Long said a resolution will be introduced to set up a legislative investigative group. He said he thought it already had been introduced.

On Feb. 17, a month after his first primary victory, Long said in Alexandria he would give Kennon the same kind of investigation "they gave ol' Dick Leche."

Long was lieutenant governor when former Gov. Richard Leche resigned in 1939 during the Louisiana scandals. Later, Leche was convicted of fraud and sent to prison.

The governor said he "had been told that Kennon took all his records with him when he left office," and that "I didn't do that."

Pressed for the exact nature of any probes, Long quipped the $100,000 might be used to investigate the press, "so it will write the truth." He laughed at his remark.

Long said former Gov. Sam Jones in 1940-44 asked for and received $500,000 for a crime commission "with the help of the newspapers."

Long made clear he expected the legislative group to be around for his four-year term, and that it "probably won't get down to business for three or four months."

Rep. Wellborn Jack, in House debate on the $100,000 Friday, said if the administration intended any probe of the former regime, no evidence has been brought forward to warrant such a move.

A legislative group already has been formed to probe the State Division of Employment Security, asked by organized labor.

Long said the new legislative resolution he mentioned for the first time, setting up a second probe agency, might be withheld until it can be determined "whether the money will be there."

Long, who spoke to a packed Senate-House meeting June 7, lecturing lawmakers on their "responsibilities" toward administration tax proposals, said he wants to make another talk.

He named next Sunday as the likely date, and commented "Those who want to listen can come, and the others can go fishing, if they want."

This week will mark major House floor action on the administration's tax proposals, requiring a two-thirds legislative vote which Long couldn't muster last week.

Long originally introduced legislation to approximately double taxes on timber, raising the severance tax from 2.25 per cent to five per cent, and the pulpwood tax from five per cent to 12.5 per cent.

Now he says he will back amendments raising the 2.25 per cent rate 350 per cent, and trimming the proposed 150 per cent boost on pulpwood to 100 per cent.

Long said he will ask the Louisiana Forestry Commission to assign special agents to search for tax chislers who, he claimed, cost the state about $500,000 a year by sending untaxed sawlogs and pilings across state lines into Texas, Arkansas or Mississippi.

The governor said, under his proposed tax amendments, the state will gain $2,012,000, still short of the $2,300,000 spending proposed.

we have a strong candidate and a strong platform."

Williams said it was "debatable" whether Eisenhower can win again in Michigan. He implied that the Democrats there have their work cut out for them to beat the President.

Meyner said there are "more variables" in the picture than in 1952, when Eisenhower carried his state. Even so, he said he would "rather not predict" at this time whether the president can win New Jersey again.

Harriman, Williams and Meyner had soft words for the South on the explosive civil rights issue. But all made it clear they expect their party to endorse in its platform the Supreme Court's decision for racial integration in the schools. All stopped short of advocating enforcement of this order by federal troops, although Williams said he would expect it to be carried out by United States marshals and thought some resisters might land in jail.

Even formal approval of the court's order was too much for Democratic Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina. Timmerman said Democratic state chairmen of 11 Southern states have been invited to explore at a meeting at Atlanta early in July the possibility of holding a pre-Chicago Southern unity meeting.

The objective, Timmerman said would be to head off a third party movement by impressing the Chicago convention that the South means business in getting the kind of nominee and platform it feels it can live with. The alternative, Timmerman said, might be that Dixie Democrats would "go fishing" in November.

Timmerman denied he and other Democrats had any intention of supporting Eisenhower.

jority of the Parliament's 52 seats.

The preliminary count gave the Conservatives, led by outgoing Premier Olafur Thors, 19 seats. In the old Althing they held 21.

The Progressive - Social Democrat coalition appeared to have taken 25 seats, a gain of 3. The Communists held on to 7—the same number they had before—and one place was undecided.

A total of 27 seats is required for formation of a government by a single party or combine of parties. The Conservatives and Progressives had governed together since 1953 but split when the Progressives last March pushed through the Althing a resolution asking withdrawal of American forces within 18 months. The government has asked for discussion of this with Washington.

The National Defense party, which is anti - Communist but made U.S. withdrawal its sole election appeal, apparently had lost the only two seats it held in the old Althing.

Domestic issues were overshadowed in the voting by the intense interest in the demands of the four opposition parties for withdrawal of the 5,000 to 6,000 U.S. Army, Air Force and Navy men manning the Keflavik base and radar listening posts linking North American and European defense networks.

complaint which was known to Laird.

A coroner's jury headed by Hinds County Coroner W. A. Beatty, returned a verdict of murder-suicide committed by Laird.

Because the shootings occurred on government property, the FBI was called in for a check.

Pierce said an unidentified University of Texas medical student, working at the VA for the summer, said he saw Laird shoot Lann during a stuggle in the hall of the VA office.

Another student said Laird, who lived in an apartment in town, came to his barracks door about 12:30 a.m. seeking Lann who lived in the barracks during the week. He pointed out the room and Laird left.

Later, the first student said he heard scuffling in the hall and stepped out to see what was going on.

He said he saw Laird and Lann struggling. Before he could move toward them a shot rang out and Lann fell to the floor. Laird fled as the student called a doctor. Lann died a few minutes later.

Officers, searching for Laird, found the counsellor's body in his automobile parked outside the office-barracks area.

an additional strain on you during your convalescence," Nehru added:

"I am most anxious that this should be avoided and suggest therefore for your consideration that my visit to the United States might be postponed."

In reply, Eisenhower said he had been "eagerly looking forward" to Nehru's visit.

"While my convalescence proceeds according to schedule . . . I cannot be entirely free of doubt as to whether my recuperation will be far enough advanced by July 7 to have the kind of talks which we both had in mind."

Eisenhower expressed the hope that the postponement would not be for long and asked Nehru to suggest a new date which would meet with the Prime Minister's convenience.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will convalesce at his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., after checking out of Walter Reed Army Hospital late this week, probably Friday or Saturday.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower definitely plan to spend the coming weekend at the farm.

Hagerty told a news conference he had no details yet as to just when Eisenhower will be discharged from the hospital.

But the President's physicians reportedly are planning to let him check out Friday or Saturday if his recovery progress continues as it has been going—"very satisfactorily."

The plans announced by Hagerty mean that the President, hospitalized since June 8, will spend his 40th wedding anniversary at the farm with Mrs. Eisenhower. The anniversary is Sunday.

In reply to questions, Hagerty said he had no information yet as to whether the President may stop at the White House, and perhaps stay there overnight, before going on to Gettysburg.

Sen. Chavez (D-NM), floor manager for the bill, said he is confident the Senate will approve the big Air Force increase by a margin of "6 to 10 votes."

Republicans hope to substitute a lesser 500-million-dollar increase proposed by Sen. Bridges (R-NH). Bridges said, however, that senatorial "resentment" at Secretary of Defense Wilson may result in a bigger increase.

He referred in an ABC-TV interview to news stories quoting Wilson as saying both Democratic and Republican efforts to increase the Air Force funds were "phony."

Wilson since has backed away from that statement, saying he was "partly" misquoted and misunderstood. He said he did not mean to insult any senator, and had meant the word "phony" to refer to a part of a reporter's question which he said implied that he did not have to concern himself with defense expenditures.

Both Chavez and Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said they didn't think Wilson's remarks would affect the senators' decisions.

Elderly Woman Embezzler Gets Twenty Years

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Minnie Mangum, ex-officer of an embezzlement-wrecked financial institution, was sentenced today to serve 20 years in prison.

The 59-year-old spinster, plump and poker-faced, stood in a crowded courtroom and heard Corporation Court Judge H. Lawrence Bullock impose sentence of 10 years for her embezzlement of $1,082,968.25 and 10 years for giving false information to the State Corporation Commission.

Bullock specified the two sentences are to run consecutively.

He imposed sentences of two years each, to run concurrently with the 20 years, on eight indictments charging forgery, two others charging false information, and one alleging embezzlement of $17,000.

Rev. George Nelson Occupies Old Pulpit

LAKE PROVIDENCE, June 25 (Special) — George Nelson of Dallas, Tex., was guest speaker at the morning service of the First Baptist church this week. Rev. Nelson, a former pastor, was warmly welcomed by both old and new friends.

Drawing from his store of experiences while serving as a chaplian in the navy during the past 15 years, Rev. Nelson, delivered a touching and highly interesting sermon. Part of the time he served as chaplain in World War II and later at the Veterans Administration hospital in Dallas, where he is presently located.

Speaking on "The Badge of Christianity," Chaplain Nelson said, among other things, that the most important thing is not so much whether one is Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, etc., but if the heart is right and whether one has the love of God and one's fellow man in the heart.

Ellender Given Liberal Praise

WASHINGTON, June 25 (Special) — Seventeen members of the United States senate, representing both Democrats and Republicans, recently heaped praise on the head of Louisiana Sen. Allen J. Ellender for his work as chairman of the Senate public works appropriations subcommittee.

This occurred during the senate's consideration of the public works appropriations bill for fiscal 1957.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (Rep., Maine), led off the procession when she rose to pay tribute to Ellender "for the very wonderful job that he has done this year as chairman of the senate appropriations subcommittee on public works."

She added, "It has been my privilege to serve with him on that subcommittee and I say that it has truly been an education on efficient and effective leaedrship on legislation."

"This is not said in the superficiality of flattery, [illegible]" Senator Smith. "It is said in genuine sincerity, for I saw with my own eyes and heard with my own ears day after day in serving on the subcommittee. His was a superlative demonstration of a man dedicated to his duty — of a man who had an unusual balance between a sense of efficiency and economy on the one hand and of the vital public works needs of every section of our country on the other hand."

The Maine senator said that "performance such as that displayed by the senior senator from Louisiana is not easily achieved. It takes not only his unusual ability and keen mind but his years of experience in handling these matters for the Senate. Not only the Senate but the entire country owes him a debt of gratitude for what he has done."

At Air Conditioned Village

Coleman Blend-Air System Rated High

Ever think of living in an Air Conditioned Village?

Well, the Ken Flagg family did in Austin, Texas, and what he says about Coleman Blend Air conditioning should be of interest to any home or prospective home owner.

But first you ought to know about the Air Conditioned Village. It was a test village composed of 22 homes in which a different type air conditioning system was used in each house. The houses were sold to and occupied by typical families of various sizes who agreed to the testing program.

Here's what Ken Flagg says about Coleman Blend -Air: 'We cool our whole home for about half the operating cost of ordinary systems. We know that research engineers found Coleman cooling outstanding in all tests, with operating costs slashed to almost half that of the Village average.

Here are several other ways in which Coleman Blend-Air proved outstanding:

(1) Low electrical consumption — The Village averaged (operating costs) $1.06 per day during the month of the survey. Tests showed that Blend-Air was one of the four lowest operating costs systems for which power readings are available during the test period. Breaking it down in KWHs, the cost of Coleman was only 68 cents per day for power.

(2) Low Water Consumption — It was proved that the Coleman evaporative condenser uses only 38 per cent as much water as the average cooling tower. Or in round figures cooling tower average (24 hour period) was 138 gallons, and Evaporative, 52 gallons.

(3) Humidity Control — During a one-day period, the Coleman system removed a total of 83.8 pounds of moisture from the air in the house — enough to fill a 10 gallon tub!

(4) Even Temperature Distribution — The official figures for Blend-Air showed that the average differential for all rooms was only 8-10 of one degeer above the lowest temperature. The Village was 3.03 degrees.

(5) Draft-Free Circulation — In short, 'No drafts'.

(6) Low Noise Level — It was officially stated that only 3 of 22 systems installed in the Village could comply with FHA requirements. The 40 decibel standard was bessed by Coleman with 36. The complete system, including the compressor, was in full operation during the time.

The Blend-Air system is outstanding for dependability and lack of service. Ken Flagg says the only service required for the job from the day he moved in was to tighten a set screw on the blower wheel.

Local and area residents may not know Ken Flagg and family, but they should get acquainted with Coleman Blend-Air. Call or visit the West Monroe Air Conditioning Co. Inc. today, Located at 304 Trenton street, West Monroe, you'll find qualified personnel to help you in every way.

Goulds Pump Must For Lawn Sprinkling

You're heard the saying, 'Don't send a boy to do a man's job. That's just as applicable to sprinkler service when buying a pump. You want the pump that's especially built for lawn sprinkling, one that does a man-size job.

That means a Goulds underground sprinkling pump, which you'll find at Home Improvement and Appliance, Inc., 815 DeSiard.

A Goulds Aqua Lawn (Jet Centrifual) pump is the only type that may be safely used for continuous lawn sprinkling. It is not a limited rotary-type pump.

The motor is designed for this specific pump — the home owner's assurance that it won't be damaged under heavy continuous use.

High capacity pump sizes are available at Home Improvement for one, two, three, four or more sprinklers all working at the same time. No overload on motor. No tank, no pressure switch or similar accessories needed.

It never loses prime, has only one moving part, and is trouble-free. There is no damage to an Aqua-Lawn if water level drops below well pipe; the pump resumes operation with no priming necessary when water level restored.

There's a Goulds Aqua-Lawn for any need. Depending on your water table, the following sizes are generally used:

One-fourth horsepower, 1 sprinkler.

One -half horsepower, 2 sprinklers.

Three - fourths horsepower, 3 sprinklers.

One horsepower, 4 sprinklers.

Larger sizes are available.

About installation.

Only three things to do. After water is located, connect well-pipe to suction opening — connect discharge pipe — connect to electrical source. That's all. You'll never regret buying a Goulds pump, world's largest exclusive manufacturer. Drop by Home Improvement today. See Joe Renwick or Frank Golson. You'll be glad you consulted a Goulds dealer.

W. Monroe Firm Builds Elevator Near Jonesville

JONESVILLE, June 25 (Special) — Union Oil Mill company of West Monroe, begnn construction Thursday of a new grain elevutor here to serve the surrounding farming area. W. C. Beard will be in full charge of the new enterprise.

The new facility should be completed in three to four weeks, in ample time to handle this year's soybean crop. It will be able to handle the entire soyhean crop produced in this area, according to Beard.

Soybeans purchased at the new elevator will be hauled directly to the Union Oil Mill at West Monroe.

Stating that grain crops will prove to be of great economic benefit to this area, Beard said that he foresees a great future for them in the farming sections surrounding Jonesville.

This trend toward grain crops, and the connected grazing of cattle, has been more pronounced in this area during the past few years and points up the revolt of farmers of this section against tottering King Cotton, once virtually the only money crop known here.

Decreased cotton acreage allotments nad increased boll work and weevil infestation has driven farmers to seek other money crops. The answer seems to have been found in diversified farming with new emphasis on grain crops.

Auto Lull To Fade

After setting records in 1955, the automotive industry is in a period of lower production schedules, layoffs and some operational losses. But the industry's leaders are confident this is just a passing phase to be followed by an era of increasing production.

Emphasis on new designs will make 1957 a better year, auto men are confident. Albert Bradley, chairman of General Motors, predicts an ever-greater demand for the long pull. The number of motor vehicles in use, he predicts, will rise from today's 62 million to nearly 70 million in 1960 and more than 80 million by 1966.

Stepped up outlays for highway construction will be a long start toward curing America's highway ills. As the bottlenecks and aggravations are removed, motoring will be attractive to more and more millions.

It is interesting to note that while employment has dropped in the automotive industry, the active labor force of the nation has inched upward to 64 million and there has been a decrease of 300,000 in unemployment. Automobile manufacturers cannot afford to risk lengthy lay-offs for their workers. That skilled labor would be snapped up by other lines of manufacture, leaving the auto makers with severe production handicaps.

Surpluses To Reds?

Midwesterners who have strongly opposed trade with the Communists may soon be caught on the horns of a dilemma. Secretary of State Dulles in a closed session of the House Agriculture Committee is reported to have urged Congress to remove the ban on selling and bartering surplus farm products to iron curtain countries.

Secretary Dulles is reported to have said that there are opportunities for disposal of surplus commodities to satellite countries, such as Poland and Czechoslovakia. Government officials say they could double the volume of government-owned farm surpluses which could be sold abroad for foreign currencies, now $1.5 billion annually.

Many Midwesterners have repeatedly urged the government to get rid of those surpluses somehow, preferably by selling them abroad. At the same time they have protested every lowering of the trade barriers between East and West. The chance to cut another $1.5 billion out of that $8 billion stockpile may be too good to pass up. Yet food is certainly a way of strengthening the enemy's hand.

Russia's agricultural difficulties are providing the "empty bins" into which America's surpluses could be stuffed. This floundering part of her economy is considered a major military weakness. It will be interesting to note farm belt reaction to this latest surplus disposal possibility.

'Pay Later' Education

This is the age of "Buy Now—Pay Later" and "Travel Now—Pay Later" installment-plan living.

Now the treasurer of Princeton University, Ricardo A. Mestres, has proposed a "Study Now—Pay Later" plan. Mestres notes that tuition fees at the average private university cover only about half the real cost of educating a student.

So why not double the fees and devise a plan to enable the student to pay off most of his tuition after he graduates? Under the Mestres plan a sort of General Education Acceptance Corporation would be set up to which the colleges would sell their tuition notes.

Then the corporation—and not the respective college treasurer—could carry out the task of collecting the monthly payments from the college alumni under the plan.

Mestres also proposes that students who enter "poorly paid but socially useful" professions would get discounts. Presumably this would be for teachers, ministers, social workers—although housewives and would-be poets and artists might also make claims.

All this sounds a trifle fantastic. But so did much of the installment buying everyone takes for granted 30 years ago.

Mysteries Of Medicine

Medical researchers, justifiably exuberant over recent advances in their field, have been proclaiming they are on the threshold of controlling man's physical ills. One result of President Eisenhower's illness might be to caution them against over-optimism —to remind them that no matter how great their progress, theirs always will be a field of endeavor with new frontiers and new challenges.

Ileitis, the malady which brought down the President, was an unknown disease until the early 1930s. Its discovery was a notable achievement for medical science. But it should be noted that the doctors attending the President report that its origin still is unknown. Preventive measures, therefore, still are impossible.

In the not distant past, Mr. Eisenhower's malady probably would have been diagnosed as ulcers, colitis or old-fashioned stomachache. Apparently it still is confused with such illnesses, for the doctors attending the President reported ileitis "probably is much more common than is diagnosed."

Even in instances where accomplishment has been greatest, much remains unknown. Today's cures may be superseded tomorrow, today's ailments take on a new and perhaps more virulent form, and today's germ be supplanted by a tougher cousin immune to the latest products of medical science.

SOCK-O!

Persistent Attempts To Knock Ike's Physicians

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON, June 25 —When Presidential Secretary James Hagerty said he wasn't going to engage in a debate with newsmen on what some doctors have been quoted in the press as saying about the President's illness because, as he points out, they don't know this particular case, it was, of course, a commonsense decision.

There is a certain puzzlement, however, as to why there are such persistent attempts in the press to try to knock down what the President's physicians have said.

It's a strange contrast to the way the press behaved from the time Franklin D. Roosevelt became a candidate for the Presidency in 1932 till the day he died in April 1945. Not a single movie newsreel and not a single news photograph that this correspondent ever saw or heard about told the people that the President of the United States actually couldn't walk, that special ramps had to be built at the White House and the Capitol, that he couldn't stand when greeting foreign visitors, or that he ever stood up at a single press conference. When he campaigned, his entrances to and exists from meeting places were carefully screened.

None of the news dispatches of the President's inauguration on January 20, 1945, moreover, reported that Mr. Roosevelt had to be lifted up by members of his family and supported while he took the oath of office and read the Inaugural address from the White House balcony. There was no adverse comment on why he didn't go to the capitol for the occasion.

Throughout Mr. Roosevelt's public life as Governor of New York and as a candidate for the Presidency and while he was in the White House during a period of more than 12 years - no appreciable number of the American people ever knew of the physical disability of the man they elected four times. Some newsmen hereabouts were told in 1944 about the comment of an eminent Boston Physician that a paralysis such as Mr. Roosevelt had suffered would cut down his life expectancy. But they didn't write the story.

Was this a mistake on the part of the press and its photographers? Not at all. It was good taste and decency. It was a respect for the high office of President. The only question that was germane then and that is germane now is whether a President is mentally capable. A man with the type of heart attack Mr. Eisenhower has had doesn't suffer any injury to his mind - and neither does anyone with his experience with ileitis.

Then why is so much prominence given to the speculation by one or two doctors that the illness might recur whe the doctors handling the case say they believe it will not recur? Why is there so much emphasis on the alleged damage of the stomach ailment expressed by democratic politicians and their henchmen who keep on thinking up every day new angles for skepticism?

The theory usually heard in defense of such tactics is that the American people are entitled to all the facts about their President. They certainly are, but the implication that, when once they know the facts, they will not vote to re-elect Mr. Eisenhower is just partisan thinking of a wishful nature.

The best refutation of the theory that the American electorate will not elect a man with a physical handicap is the way the people reacted toward Franklin Roosevelt. Does anybody who is an admirer of Mr. Roosevelt really believe that, if his ardent supporters throughout the country had known in November 1944 that Mr. Roosevelt was not a well man, they would have refused to elect him and would have voted for Mr. Dewey? Did the people know whether and obscure Senator from Missouri who had been nominated for Vice President would make a good President? It will be said in reply that, of course, there was a war on then. But today there's a crisis almost as important to the world - the maneuvers of the "Cold War" and the heart of World War III.

The electorate naturally will discuss a candidate's health whenever the opposition party spokesmen bring it up.

But looking back to 1944 and assuming that the Republicans had had the bad manners and bad taste being exhibited today by the Democrats, few persons who have studied the trends in Presidential elections will agree that this would have elected Thomas E. Dewey.

Restraint is better in the long run than smear campaigns which violate the nation's sense of decency. Attempts to picture Mr. Eisenhower as a hopeless invalid or to imply that he isn't carrying on the duties of his office because he doesn't do everything the partisans want him to do are bound in the end to lose votes for their sponsors. The American people react to wrong tactics because they have an innate belief in fair play.

Needed—A Code Of Ethics

By Westbrook Pegler

CHICAGO, June 21 — A code of ethics agreeable to Chief Justice Warren and Harry Truman well might fall short of the standard observed by conventional Americans. Such a code could be nothing better than a formulation of brutal dictatorial powers which have been assumed by union racketeers under the indecent patronage of the Roosevelt cult as extended and maintained under Truman and Eisenhower.

Such a code certainly would provide that unions have a legal right to commit highway robbery as a special privilege necessary to their existence. The only proviso would be that they must commit such criminal acts exclusively in their own interest. They must not commit highway robbery in collusion with employers for the employers' benefit. This is the law of the land, laid down in a majority opinion of the Supreme Court written by Justice Jimmy Byrnes, in the so-called teamsters' case.

Byrnes held that a gang of hoodlums with a stickup station on the Jersey side of the vehicle tunnels leading into downtown New York were within the law in practicing extortion by forcing truck-freight companies to give up money in the guise of wages for relief drivers some of whom were incapable of driving such trucks, and many of whom had criminal records, which disqualified them for drivers' licenses. Without such licenses they were ineligible for the employment which the court held that they had a right to merely because they held union cards. If one of these crooks had killed five or six blameless victims in a traffic smash, the same court would have held the company to blame for entrusting a dangerous vehicle to a driver known to be of bad character and ineligible in obedience to the Supreme Court.

Both Warren and Truman follow the decisions of the Supreme Court and never more doggedly than when such decisions flout the plain intention of the Ten Commandments and the Constitution.

Fleix Frankfurter wrote the opinion in a union racket known as the cafeteria case in which he laid it down, again as the law of the land, that it is no serious offense but merely the permissible give-and-take of repartee to placard an employer's premises with signs calling him a Nazi or a fascist, with malicious intent and to the injury of that employer, even though it were admitted that statements were false and intended to injure the victim. Frankfurter thus threw out the verboten against false witness and that revision of the decalogue by the court is still the law of the land. Pointedly, Frankfurter and the court did not hold that it were harmless repartee to call a person a Communist, even if he were a Communist. You do that at your peril.

Byrnes later explained privately that, although goons with criminal records stuck up the truckers on the Jersey side, demanding $11 for permission for the trucks to continue their journeys a few minutes into the New York produce markets, the court was obliged to vindicate them. Byrnes happened to know that such was the "legislative intent" of Royal S. Copeland, a Tammany senator, who had written the so-called racketeering act. Byrnes and Copeland were buddies in the Senate when the act was offered and Jimmy knew that Copeland did not have the character to rear back and fight when William Green, president of the A F of L, demanded a slight revision.

Green went to the department of justice and, with Copeland's consent, the language was changed so that stickup men acting in their own interest by authority of union charters issued by Green's A F of L, received exemption and privilege. A union charter was a license to commit highway robbery. Knowing this intimate history of the act, Byrnes was tagged to write the prevailing opinion which still expresses the moral standard of the entire clique of fakers who are bawling for a code of ethics to purify the union racket.

The fraudulence of this ballyhoo is clearly known to all "commentators" specializing in union matters and, of course, to all unioneers and politicians. The futility of aspirations toward purity through a code of ethics consistent with union standards will be clear to any American who reminds himself of the turning point of Roosevelt's fourth term campaign against Tom Dewey in 1944. That turning point was a colossal brawl by a mob of drunken bums rallied to the groaning board of the teamsters' union at the Statler Hotel in Washington. Hundreds of them got reeking drunk, they smashed glasses, they ruined precious food which most of the people lacked under rationing, and Roosevelt egged them on to more and more revolting enormities.

Harriman-Kefauver Deal To 'Stop Adlai'

By Fulton Lewis

WASHINGTON—The bland self-confidence asserted publicly by Adlai Stevenson that he will be the Democratic presidential nominee, dims under an aura of doubt raised by a series of questions which loom larger as convention time nears.

Did New York's Governor Averell Harriman dally too long before making his overt bid for the nomination? Or will the timetable dictated by his astute political mentor, the Empire State's Democratic boss Carmine DeSapio, prove to be as efficacious as DeSapio thinks it will be in rallying "stop Stevenson" convention votes?

Are spokesmen for Harriman and for the somewhat abashed Tennessee hopeful, Senator Estes Kefauver, discussing a possible Harriman-Kefauver ticket, with the latter accepting the number two nomination in return for throwing his still-substantial support to the New Yorker for the top spot?

Will the loquacious little traveler from Pendergast-land, former President Harry Truman, wind up by maintaining a truly neutral attitude toward selection of a presidential nominee, or will his distaste for Stevenson get the better of him to the point of open or tacit participation in a stop-Adlai effort? And if it succeeds, will he then undertake all other possible moves to keep the convention deadlocked until it turns to him as its only hope?

If any individual knew the answers to all those questions, he could present an authoritative foretaste of what will happen in Chicago the week of August 13. No one does.

Taking up the questions in reverse order, the best available information is that the peripatetic ex-President will become an active figure, backstage at last, in a move to prevent the nomination from going to Stevenson. He feels he was slighted and snubbed by the Illinoisan during the 1952 campaign, and that if his (Truman's) advice had been followed then, Stevenson would have been in the White House today.

Also, Mr. Truman told intimates last winter that he expected the convention to become so deadlocked that it would stampede to him as its sole possible winner. Mr. Truman possessing the high opinion he does of Mr. Truman, there is no reason to believe that view has changed.

On the question of a Harriman-Kefauver deal, all directly involved deny that any such is in the making. But denials frequently mean little or nothing in politics; the prospects for this are increasingly favorable, particularly if the outlook at convention time is for a substantial swing to Stevenson on the second or third ballot, with the release of favorite son delegations. If a Harriman-Kefauver combination appears to be the only way of stopping Stevenson, there very likely will be a Harriman-Kefauver combination.

So back to the first question, which requires an only-time-will-tell answer.

By waiting as long as he did before officially throwing in his hat (as he did literally in announcing his open candidacy while addressing a union convention), Harriman was able to avoid the battle scars which both Stevenson and Kefauver accumulated during the increasingly-bitter primary campaigns (and the scars were many).

But his delayed entry means that Harriman now must pick up his support from among states which had no primary elections and which are not yet committed to any other candidate, thereby limiting his scope of operations.

This is exactly what Harriman, DeSapio and company have in mind in establishing a campaign organization to direct their drive for support in 11 Western states. The 11 states have 19 votes at the convention, and the organization's leaders claim that 70½ of the total already are committed to Harriman.

Together with the 91½ pledged votes in the 98-vote New York State delegation, this makes a neat little starting bloc of 162 votes on the first ballot. But the Harriman group will have to make substantial and speedy progress between now and Aug. 13 if they hope to even come close to the 686½ convention votes needed for the nomination.

Carmine DeSapio could well be the most astute political operator to arrive on the national scene since James A. Farley brought home his winner, name of Roosevelt, in 1932, and it is conceivable that he might put Harriman across. On the other hand, there are some who feel he may have stubbed his toe on this one.

Joanne Dru's Year

By Jimmy Fidler

HOLLYWOOD, June 25 — The good year 1956 is beginning, at the halfway mark, to look like Joanne Dru's year. She is well on her way towards satisfying three ambitions — to become a TV star, to play comedy roles and fulfilling a dream in which she and husband John Ireland are partners. They are building a plush tennis - club resort on Camelback Mountain near Phoenix, to open in mid-October. They will play host and hostess to 400 members. That gives some clue to the dimensions of their project. Joanne recently made a pilot half-hour film for a planned TV series, "Adventures of a Model," based in part on her own early experience as a model. A big sponsor already is interested. If the deal goes through she'll be doing something she's always wanted to do — comedy. Then she's not forgetting that lead opposite Jeff Chandler in "Drango," the Hall Bartlett production for Earlmar Productions, Jeff's new independent company releasing through United Artists. She plays a fiery Union supporter in a war-ravaged Southern town. Yes, folks, Joanne Dru is quite happy these days . . .

Betty Hutton has been confined to her home with a severe attack of virus . . Bill Holden is back from Europe. He didn't get to Moscow. His visa was canceled by the Russians. What has Bill done to annoy the Soviets? . . . Spencer Tracy has gone to New York from location in Cuba for a short vacation before reporting to Warners for further scenes in "The Old Man and the Sea." . . . Humphrey Bogart has returned from a boat trip, his first real outing since his recent serious surgery. "Bogart's doing right well now," says wife, Laurene Bacall . . . They are saying in Hollywood that Ingrid Bergman will be making pictures here in 1957. All's not well with her and her Italian director husband. . . . Joan Crawford will be going to Ireland to film "Esther Costello." Her recent marriage did not halt the movie career of Joan—one of filmland's most distinguished careers . . .

Rock Hudson, I hear, has taken out life insurance for $150,000. . . . All week Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh have been receiving warm congratulations. Yes, indeedy, it is a girl . . . Tim, the older of Susan Hayward's twins, has been named honor student at the Buckly school in Los Angeles . . . Bob Okazaki is coaching Marlon Brando in some dialogue in "Tea House of the August Moon." Japanese palaver, I'll betcha . . . Gene Markey's new novel, "Kentucky Pride," will soon be in your bookstore . . .

C. B. DeMille, noted film producer, and Art Linkletter, celebrated TV emcee, will on July 7 receive the International Human relations Awards of the Dale Carnegie Clubs' International. The setting will be a banquet at the Los Angeles Statler hotel . . . John Wayne has just undergone his annual physical checkup at the Scripps clinic at La Jolla, near San Diego . . . Cameraman Robert Burks will join Director Alfred Hitchcock on the latter's lion-hunting safari and in the filming of "Flamingo Feather." . . . Donald O'Connor will replace the late Edward Arnold on the board of directors of the Screen Actors Guild . . . Shelley Winters, leaving Broadway June 30, has an offer to play ten weeks on the London stage . . .

Congratulations to Tony Owen and Donna Reed, celebrating this week their eleventh wedding anniversary. Tony flew in from London for the occasion . . . Gary Crosby is being seen often with Jeanne Ferguson, the New York dancer, soon to appear in a picture starring Tab Hunter and Natalie Wood . . .

Tony Curtis is wondering if there is something symbolic in the title of his Universal - International starrer, "Mister Cory," with Martha Hyer and Kathryn Grant. The day he started the picture his wife, Janet Leigh, had some tile work done in the kitchen by the Cory Tile Company. In the business section adjoining their neighborhood is Corey's Launderette, where Janet often takes the washing overload. Every morning on his way to the studio Tony passes Kory's market and about a mile from U.I. he sees a Dr. Corey's Psychiatric Center. The strangest coincidence of all is that one of Tony's favorite poems — one he has been quoting word for word since he was a teen - ager — Edwin Arlington Robinson's "Richard Corey." Struck by these ironic parallels, Tony investigated the derivation of the name Cory. It is a Scottish surname taken from the phrase "at the corrie," which is the hollow side of a hill where game usually can be found. Said Tony: "I have a strong premonition that my old pal, Wendell Corey, is going to call me and ask me to go hunting."

Rod Steiger has slimmed down as much as 15 pounds for his romantic role in "Run of the Arrow." . . .Gregory Peck and John Huston will fly to Tahiti for their next picture, "Typee, after the world premiere of "Moby Dick" at New Bedford . . . DeMille's "The Ten Commandments," will open at the Stanley Warner theater in Beverly Hills in November. It is being heralded as the most widely exploited picture in screen history.

'Finders Limited'

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — A London author writing a play about Jesus Christ recently wanted to find out on what day of the week the Savior had been born.

He turned for help to Hugo Dunn-Meynell, known as Britain's "Mr. Knowledge."

Dunn-Meynell is managing director of an unusual firm called "Finders Limited," which for a fee will ferret out information for a client or perform any odd job so long "as it is legal and moral."

He and his 25 assistants pored over hundreds of volumes of Biblical scholarship before coming up with this answer:

"Jesus probably was born either at Wednesday or Thursday midnight, but we can't go beyond that. Internal evidence within the Bible itself makes it unlikely he could have been born on any other day of the week."

This has been the most interesting of the queries that pour into his firm at the rate of about 200 a week, but there have been many strange ones.

An American, for example, wrote and asked that a hotel bed he had slept in during a stay in London be sent to him.

"It was extremely comfortable," he explained. Finders Limited went to the hotel, bought the bed, and shipped it over.

Dunn-Meynell, who is 30, slender and wears a ginger goatee, served in the British navy and studied law before launching his unique career. It has taken him to most parts of the world, and he is now making a 13,000-mile trip around America.

His organization is geared for emergencies. Once it had to charter a car and race 35 miles to deliver a pair of forgotten false teeth to a British lady executive in time for her to make a speech to her stockholders.

It takes in stride weird requests to locate such items as an elephant's foot, a pre-revolutionary recording of the old Russian national anthem, or a nulla-nulla, which is an Australian throwing stick.

Once a horrified gentleman phoned for aid in a terrible personal dilemma. In sending some flowers he had gotten the cards mixed. The one he had sent to a funeral read "many happy returns of the day." The one he had sent to his lady friend read "with deepest sympathy." Finders Limited saved the day for him by dispatching an agent who changed the card before the mourners arrived.

"Our clients keep us on our toes," said Dunn-Meynell. "We never know what we'll be asked to do next."

Not long ago he had a hurry-up call from the Family Planning Assn. of Great Britain for toads, which are used in pregnancy tests.

He put an ad in "The Times" reading "30 male toads urgently needed"—and they flooded in from all parts of the English countryside.

His fees range from about 65 cents for a simple request for information up to $50 to make a market study of, say, the commercial possibilities of chocolate-flavored toothpaste in Saudi Arabia.

Most Americans are interested in backtracking their ancestors. Dunn-Meynell particularly enjoys these searches, for he has an impressive ancestry himself. He is "Lord of the Manor" of Yarm, a village in Yorkshire, where his family has had a large estate since 1280.

The prerogatives of his position don't worry him much.

Mrs. Biedenharn Gives Library Expansion Plan

A statement to the people in regard to the library expansion program was issued Monday by Mrs. B. W. Biedenharn, chairman of the board of control of the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

The statement follows:

"Several weeks ago the board of control of the Ouachita Parish Public Library presented to the public a ten - year plan of library expansion and development, which was to be financed by a 1½ mill tax on all property in the parish, beginning with the taxable year 1957. This plan as outlined by the board was not acceptable to many people. Everyone wanted new library buildings, but they did not approve of the schedule for building them or the method of financing the program. After numerous consultations with leading citizens of the parish a compromise was reached which seems to be satisfactory to everyone.

"Most people preferred a bond issue rather than a tax for the construction of buildings. For with a tax, the money would have to be saved for several years before the construction of the new buildings could begin. Our present library facilities are so inadequate and over - crowded that we really need the buildings as soon as possible and with a bond issue they can be built next year. On June 13 the members of the board of control returned to the police jury and asked them to rescind the original call for a tax election and substitute a dual proposal. One is for a $700,000 bond issue and the other is for a ¼ mill increase in the library maintenance tax. The bond issue will be retired over a ten-year period.

"In the year 1957 it will take a tax of one mill or less to retire it, but each year the amount collected from the individual taxpayer will be less, until the tenth year it will be .36 of a mill. The maintenance tax increase will run concurrently with our present tax of ½ mill. They will both expire with the taxable year 1962. By that time we will have our new buildings in operation and will know exactly what is needed to staff and maintain them adequately.

"The proceeds of the bond issue will be used as follows: First to purchase a lot north of Louisville, situated in a position as near as possible to the center of population, with adequate parking space and room for expansion. On this lot will be built the main library of the Ouachita parish system. Second, to purchase a lot in West Monroe located near the center of population and also with adequate parking space. Here will be erected a modern library to serve the people of this city. These two buildings will be constructed at the same time. Third, to build a modern branch library on the site of the present library on Jackson street. This branch will serve the people who live south of DeSiard and will also serve the down-town section. Fourth money will be set aside to erect new buildings for the Negro people of Monroe and West Monroe and for the purchase of new bookmobiles as the need arises.

"We have found that some people do not have a clear picture of all of the activities that are carried on by the main library of a parish system and we invite you to call at the library on Jackson street and examine the crowded conditions and get some idea of the work involved in administering a system such as ours.

"Ouachita parish has made remarkable strides in library development within the past eight years, but it is impossible to go forward without adequate quarters and increased support. We have operated on the smallest per capita support of any library in the state, but the time has come when the citizens of the parish will have a chance to help it develop and expand as it should. We ask your approval of this bond and tax election on August 14 and promise you that the money will be wisely spent to give you a library system of which you can be truly proud."

Sewer Department Report Is Made

The sewer department of the city repaired 26 street cuts during May, totaling 525 square feet at a cost of $325.58, T. L. Van Fossen, supervisor and engineer of the electrical department, reported.

In addition crews installed eight manholes during May, 180 feet of eight-inch sewer main connections and 566 feet of six-inch sewer service piping.

The department receive 31 requests for sewer service during May and 28 sewer lines were repaired, Van Fossen concluded.

FOUR BRITISHERS KILLED

IPOH, Malaya (UP)—Four British soldiers on routine patrol duty were killed Sunday when their truck collided with a train. Two enlisted men and a lieutenant were injured.

$29,305.44 Is Collected By Water Dept.

A monthly report of the city water department shows that total billing during May totaled $29,305.44, as shown by the reported submitted to the city council by T. L. Van Fossen, supervisor and engineer of the electrical department.

The department has 11,553 water meters in service and 101,553 gallons were metered to customers during May, he continued.

Van Fossen said the crews laid 2,293 feet of service piping as follows: 1,437 feet of ¾ inch copper tubing; 856 of one-inch copper tubing.

At 18th and Glenmar streets, one six-inch taping sleeve and valve was installed and at 1406 Louisville, one-eight inch by six-inch taping sleeve and valve was installed, the engineer reported.

The department reports 37 water lines installed and 75 meters repaired.

Van Fossen said the department received 44 requests for water service and 44 service connections were made.

RAPIDES ASSESSMENTS UP

ALEXANDRIA — UP—Assessor Trent L. James said today that total Rapides parish assessments would be slightly higher than they were last year. James said that meant that improvements had been made, not that individual assessments would go up.

13,997 Electric Meters In Service In Monroe, $149,802.76 Collected

The city of Monroe had 13,997 electical meters in service during May and collected $149,802.76 from the sale of electricity during that period, according to the monthly report submitted by T. L. Van Fossen, supervisor and engineer of the city electrical department.

The city has a total of 13,977 electrical meters in service with 11,580 for domestic service, 2,409 for commercial and industrial services and eight for the railroads, he listed.

A total of $149,802.76 was collected from the sale of electricity with the city obtaining $35,281.01 from domestic services covering 1,508,030 KWH; $83,621.45 from commercial and industrial services covering 3,404,749 KWH; and $399.70 from the railroads covering 47,356 KWH, Van Fossen continued.

The power plant generated 9,817,000 KWH during the month, he reported. Of this amount, 953,000 KWH was utilized by the plant, 360,000 KWH by the water plant, and 8,504,000 KWH was transmitted into the distribution lines, the engineer reported.

Van Fossen stated that city departments used 111,157 KWH, street lights used an estimated 432,000 KWH, metered street lights used 19,504 KWH and metered customers used 4,960,135 KWH.

The following is a breakdown of the work done by the various phases of the electrical department as reported by Van Fossen:

Received 710 requests for street light service with 29 new lights installed and 247 replacement bulbs.

Received 1,249 requests for electric service during the month including 268 trouble calss and 107 voltage complaints. Crews worked 252 of the trouble calls and 94 of the voltage complaints. In addition to this, 41 services were connected to new buildings, 129 meters were changed out, 371 meters were installed in old buildings, 282 meters were cut and moved and 31 skill saw services were connected. Existing services were changed or increased by 14,595 linear feet of service cable.

The electrical inspector's office issued wiring permits valued at $1,195.50. Of these 71 were for new services and 83 were for old services.

Line crews installed 35,918 linear feet of new secondary and primary wiring during the month. They also installed 36 new line poles and 53 new transformers. In addition to this, 19 existing poles and 15 existing transformers were changed out. Estimated cost of material used by the line department during May totaled $52,891.78 and labor cost for the line crews totalled $16,720.17.

The maximum demand load for May in 1956 was 23,300 KW compared to 11,450 KW for May 1950.

2 Girl Scouts Leaving Tuesday For Sr. Roundup

Marie Nelson and Nancy Martin, senior scouts of troop 14, will leave Tuesday night to represent the Silver Waters Girl Scout council at the national senior roundup, Miss Annis Kile, local girl scout executive announced Monday.

The roundup will be held June 29-July 11, at Highland State park recreation area, Milford, Mich.

Marie, daughter of Mrs. Harvey Nelson of 4210 Spurgeon Drive and Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin if highway 80 west, will be members of a patrol of eight girls, including two from Alexandria and four from Shreveport. Marie Nelson has been chosen patrol leader and they will make the trip together.

More than 5,000 girls and their leaders from every state in the union are expected to attend the 12-day encampment, which will be the first of its kind to be held by the girl scouts. The encampment will be a primitive one, with each patrol taking its tents, charcoal stoves, bed rolls, cooking utensils and everything needed for the entire time.

"Americana" will be the theme of the roundup. A crafts exhibit will feature articles typical of their regions made by girls in their home troops. There will be a swap tent where souvenirs they have brought can be exchanged.

Each group will feature local history in the skits they have arranged for campfire sessions.

The entire group will take part in a huge American festival at the end of the roundup, with all girls dancing the American Girl Polka at the conclusion.

In order to prepare for living in tents and cooking on charcoal, the girls have participated in a camping week end at Shreveport's camp, one at Pine Wood, the local camp and a four day encampment near Alexandria. The girls chosen from this district to go were the ones who best met a long list of requirements.

The local group will have a day of sightseeing in St. Louis and then board a Girl Scout special train for Pontiac, Michigan, where they will be met by buses.

The girls and their leaders will wear the official girl scout uniform for travel and during the encampment, will wear the uniform of green bermuda shorts and yellow seersucker blouses.

On the return trip, the stop in St. Louis includes a six hour cruise on the Mississippi.

Miss Klie said that the local girls are looking forward to making new friends, in gaining further practice in camping skills, learning more of their own American heritage and in sharing these with scouts and the community upon their return.

Flood Irrigation System Installed As Experiment

A contour border irrigation system — the first of its kind in the Ouachita parish hill section — is being installed on an experimental basis on 15 acres of the B. W. Biedenharn farm near Cheniere Dam.

Work is being done under the supervision of the Ouachita parish Soil Conservation Service engineer, Jimmy Wyche, and technician in training, Aaron May. Plans call for later increasing the system to cover 40 acres. Pecans and grass will be the two crops served by the supplementary watering setup.

Engineer Wyche explained that work was started off by running contours at six-inch intervals (vertically), then a line was run between the contour levees to reduce the differential to two inches. This was accomplished by cutting at the high side of the unit, and filling at the low side.

On steeper land the contour lines were run up to one and one-half-foot vertical intervals, and the cutting and filling process was repeated to reduce the differential. Small tractors were used to haul dirt into low places and make fills.

However, bulldozers were used to drift dirt downhill in part of the levelling process. After this a motor grader was used to smooth out the soil. A private lake located across from the area to be irrigated will be the source of water supply. Biedenharn estimated the man-made lake covers about 20 surface acres and has an average depth of about five feet.

The lake is spring-fed, but as Biedenharn explained, when the pump is running at capacity it will draw two-million gallons of water a day, and the spring will put back into the reservoir around one-half million gallons a day.

An eight - inch impellor -type pump will lift water from the lake into a short section of metal pipe, and from there the trip to irrigation site will be made through a 10-inch asbestos cement pipe which crosses under a road.

About 500 feet of this new type pipe, which will not rust, rot or pit, has been installed. A large supply ditch will carry water to various units in the pasture-orchard area, and another ditch will channel water beyond this location for other uses.

In the bottomlands, Wyche said, this type of irrigation works well, but in the hill section the soil is sandier. "We are counting on a layer of clay eight inches under the sandy soil to keep the water from being soaked up too rapidly," he said.

The various unit areas run from one-half to three-quarters of an acre in size, and the purpose of the system is to turn 2,000 gallons of water per minute into one unit of at time to flood it before too much moisture soaks in.

Weevil Infestation In Cotton Spotty

Boll weevil infestation in cotton fields around Ouachita parish is spotty — varying from light in some to heavy in others — according to J. J. Joyce, Jr., county agent.

Poisoning against the invaders is being carried on in some fields where percentage of infestation does not warrant, he said, while in some places where poisoning is advisable, it is not being carried out.

The agent said that probably some of the hatchout of boll weevils around July 1, will give an indication as to the trend of infestaton this season, where it will be most pronounced, and to what extent.

Estimates Given On Pear, Peach Crops

Production of peaches in the state is estimated at 64,000 bushels for this year, according to an estimate released last week by the Louisiana Crop Reporting Service. This amounts to about one-half of the 1945-54 average.

Production of pears is forecast at 50,000 bushels, compared with 15,000 bushels last year, 35,000 bushels in 1954, and 114,000 bushels as the 10-year average.

Series Of Clinics Set On Mechanical Picking Of Cotton

A series of clinics on mechanical cotton - picker operation and the harvesting of quality cotton will be held throughout the Louisiana cotton belt this summer, says Joseph L. Smille, assistant angricultural engineer with the Louisiana State University Agricultural Extension Service.

The purpose, Smille says, is to help preserve the position of cot-harvesting operation and by preventing damage to the lint in the hrvesting operation and by preserving cotton quality. Cotton picker owners and operators, farm managers, ginners and others will be invited to attend the clinics.

The clinic series will be kicked off by four area cotton meetings to be held early in July, the extension engineer said. These meetings, each of which will begin at 9 a.m. and last half a day will be held at the Red River Experiment Station at Curtis on July 10, at Alexandria on July 11, at Rayville on July 12, and at St. Joseph on July 13.

Typical damage to cotton in mechanical harvesting may include picker twist and green leaf, oil and grease stains, Smille adds.

Soil Bank Program Data Meeting Set

The meeting will get under way around 9:30 a.m. and continue until sometime in the afternoon.

Vegetable Gardens Thrive

Seventy-three-year -old G. B. Studdard works as diligently in producing vegetables for home use as he does in promoting field crops on his River Stix Plantation on Bayou DeSiard, off Sterlington Road, and the good results readily can be seen.

One of the feature attractions in his garden plots is a thriving tomato crop. The heavily laden vines are supported on stakes placed at an incline much in the same manner as when being used to support bean vines. The stakes are supported at the top by a strand of wire which is strung between two rows of tomatoes. In some areas the vines are almost matted with large tomatoes.

The tomatoes, like all other home garden vegetables raised by Studdard, are for family consumption and to give to friends. The tomatoes flourished without any additional application of fertilizer, since the plot where they are located once was a barnyard lot.

Studdard already has harvested a lot of tomatoes from the vines, but most of the yeild is yet to be picked. A one-eighth acre plot of golden bamtam sweet corn, which was amply fertilized, and twice has been irrigated to offset the effects of a shortage of rainfall there, is producing abundantly.

Fertilization on the small plot of corn was at the rate of 500 pounds of 8-8-8 per acre and 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre.

Ouachita parish county agent, J. J. Joyce, Jr., who is encouraging farmers to raise more vegetables for their family needs, said that Studdard's tomato crop this year is one of the outstanding ones in the Ouachita area.

Studdard's knack for gardening has been developed over a long period of time. He recalled that many years ago when he was employed eight hours a day away from the farm, he spent his spare time raising vegetables for sale on the local markets, and brought in $1,500 one year on the side operation.

Joyce said of Studdard, "He plants big patches of everything for home use and to give to his friends."

Studdard observed, "I like to have some vegetables all along myself. My turnip patch will be going in soon, you know."

The veteran farmer regularly raises a small acreage of shallots, as well as a variety of other vegetables. The shallots, however, are sold locally for seed purposes. Studdard's farming activities on the River Stix plantation have been going on since 1933. He came to this area from Pine Bluff, Ark., in 1922.

The plantation consists of 450 acres of land. Two-hundred acres are in cotton, 70 acres in soybeans, and 60 acres will be planted in purple hull peas, "as an experiment," he said. "That's one of my new projects." Plans call for selling the purple hulls on the local produce market this year, and for seed purposes next year.

Poultry are hurt more from the lack of water in hot weather than any other type of livestock. Chickens don't drink much water at a time. They must drink often, but a hen won't walk very far to look for water. Provide plenty of fresh, cool water for hens and pullets in houses and on range. Extra waterers are a good idea, too.

Most Productive at 60°

Cattle hogs and poultry are most productive when the mercury hovers around 60°. At higher temperatures, they begin to have difficulty . . . appetites lag and efficiency decreases.

Shade and wallows or sprinkler systems do most to help hogs keep cool. Place feed and water in the shade, if possible.

Either natural or artificial shade should be provided for beef and dairy cattle on pasture as well as an ample supply of fresh cool water. Also provide fly control.

It may also help to put straw or hay over the poultry house roof. If birds hold wings from body and pant, water the roof with sprinklers or garden hose quickly. It's a danger sign.

Sow & Pig Chow should do double duty on your farm

Purina's Sow & Pig Chow has been proved by thousands of litters of pigs to do two big jobs well First, it's tops for conditioning the sow. Start feeding at breeding time and keep her on it until 5 days before she's ready to farrow. Then put her on Purina D & F Chow until 10 days after farrowing, when she should be returned to Sow & Pig Chow. This is the program used at the Purina Research Farm where an average of better than 10 pigs have been farrowed per litter in over 3,400 litters. Average weight per pig: 2½ to 3 lbs.

When pigs are weaned they go from Purina Pig Startena to Sow & Pig Chow like bees go to honey.

Self-fed, Sow & Pig will keep pigs hurrying to market. When they average about 125. lbs. put them on Hog Chow and grain. Yes sir, Sow & Pig plays a big part in marketing those 1,750 to 2,000 lbs., litters in 5 months.

Farm dogs should get good care and food

Some farmers would rather lose their hired hands than their dogs. If you have a well trained farm dog he's worth taking care of. Feed him Purina Kibbled Meal or Dog Checkers, but avoid over-feeding. Overfeeding makes dogs fat and lazy. Keep fresh water available for him at all times. Beverly Wainwright and Kelly Arnold are among our many satisfied Dog Chow customers.

FOR HOUSEWIVES ONLY

Girls it's easy to kill house flies and insects with Aero Home Spray, a product of Purina Research. Just press the top valve and see them die. If you prefer, we have Purina Home Spray in pint-sized bottles with special atomizer. If the fly population is extra heavy we suggest you scatter Purina Fly Bait and watch it KILL LIKE MAGIC. See us for Purina Fly Control Products.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Sympathetic To Lonely Persons, Woman Asks How To Start A 'Friendship Center'

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: More and more I am becoming conscious of the need for a Friendship Center in our town; and, because I have learned to have deep respect for your wise counsel, I am taking the liberty of asking your advice in the matter.

I would like to know how one might go about launching such a center—what officials and individuals to contact, etc. I am aware that it would involve considerable expense; and as I am only a salaried worker my idea may be completely unattainable.

But when I look around me and see the numbers of lonely, unhappy people who have nothing to do except go home to four-walled solitude at night, I realize their needs of companionship in proper surroundings. I know too, that loneliness and unhappiness can lead to trouble—causing people to do and say things that they wouldn't dream of otherwise.

Less Fortunate Are Neglected

The majority of people aren't concerned about the less fortunate—especially when they, themselves, are well content and well supplied with congenial companionship. It is easy for some people to make friends and keep themselves busy with church work, club work and similar activities; but for others of us it isn't so easy.

My idea of a Friendship Center would be a place where persons of all ages and religions could find companionship and mutual understanding with other lonely souls. It would welcome boys and girls who aren't so popular in their own age-group; also men and women who are just plain lonely for any reason. It would provide music for dancing, games to be played, books and magazines, and somewhere just to sit and talk.

Please tell me frankly what you think of this idea, and whether it might be made to work successfully. D.E.

Creative Idea Merits Respect

DEAR D.E.: You write from a Southern town of about twenty thousand inhabitants, where there is some wealth—derived from the tobacco industry and possessed by a comparative few—but where the majority live pretty humdrum lives, within the framework of small incomes and limited activities.

Thus it seems a justified surmise, that a Friendship Center such as you visualize, might make a big difference for the better, in the lives of many persons of all ages, there—if it had the proper management.

Certainly it is to your credit that you feel impelled to try to promote such a project. Your idea of sparking this friendly service to your community is a genuinely creative piece of thinking, in my opinon—the sort of "work" that the human imagination was designed to do (in God's scheme of things). Everything whatsoever that the genius and industry of man has produced, for the betterment of human conditions, dawned as an idea in somebody's mind.

Enlist Advices Of National "Y"

As for whom to consult, in pursuit of good guidance and valuable cooperation in nurturing the idea—it might be helpful, right at the start, to get the views and suggestions of Mrs. S.M. Simons, General Secretary of the national board of directors of the Young Women's Christian Association. Her office address is 600 Lexington Avenue, New York City 22.

A spokesman for the YWCA in the city from which I write encourages you to make such inquiry. She says "The national board of the YWCA may come up with some constructive suggestions; and could explain the essentials of possibly getting a charter for a YWCA center" in your town.

Meantime (before writing the "Y," or while waiting its response), you might be talking with leaders of women's clubs or women's church groups in your community; also with leading clergymen and with directors of your local Community Chest operation—to evoke interest in your idea. Only a small number of genuinely interested persons is necessary to become a powerful nucleus in attracting substantial support for worthy undertakings of the sort, I am told. M.H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Writh to her in care of this newspaper.

Milwaukee, Chicago On Phenomenal 'Streak Week

Victories Affect Fortunes Of All 16 Major Clubs

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

The red-hot Milwaukee Braves and Chicago White Sox were chief benefactors today of a phenomenal "streak week" which affected the fortunes of all 16 major league clubs.

Talk about streaks, get a load of some of these:

(1)—The Braves made it 10 victories in a row under new manager Fred Haney Sunday when they swept a doubleheader from the Giants, 6-2 and 7-1, to stretch their National League lead to two games. The Giants have now lost four straight.

(2)—Marty Marion's souped-up White Sox ran their winning streak to eight games and climbed to within four percentage points of the American League lead by beating the pace-setting Yankees twice, 14-2 and 6-3. The Yanks have a streak of their own going—four losses in a row.

(3)—Cleveland clicked off its sixth victory in a row by licking the Senators, 7-2, thus moving within 4½ games of first place.

(4)—Pittsburgh snapped their eight-game losing streak by beating the Cubs, 1-0, in a rain-shortened nightcap after losing the opener, 5-3.

And (5)—Baltimore extended Detroit's losing streak to eight games by sweeping a doubleheader from the Tigers by identical scores of 3-2.

In the other games Sunday the Cardinals ended a four-game losing streak by defeating the Phillies, 8-4, in the first game of a twin-bill but the Phils bounced back to win the finale, 3-2; Cincinnati took a pair from Brooklyn, 10-6 and 2-1, and Kansas City topped Boston, 5-2.

Milwaukee took advantage of four unearned runs in the opener against the Giants and then capitalized on three more unearned runs in the nightcap. Pitcher Jim Hearn's error in the eighth inning of the opener helped the Braves put together their four-run cluster, which included a three-run homer by Danny O'Connell. Lew Burdette held the Giants to four hits, including a homer by Willie Mays. Gene Conley was the winner in the nightcap although he gave way to Dave Jolly in the seventh after rain caused a 22-minute delay in the game.

Larry Doby slammed a three-run homer in each game to help the White Sox to their victories over the Yankees. Doby's second homer of the day, off Mickey McDermott in the first inning, gave ex-Yankee Gerry Staley a fine start and he was ahead all the way. In the opener, Sherm Lollar drove in four runs with a homer and a double to pave the way for Billy Pierce's 11th triumph. Whitey Ford suffered his fourth loss as the White Sox hammered out 18 hits for 28 total bases.

Home runs by Earl Averill, Bobby Alvia and Al Rosen carried Cleveland's Bob Lemon to his ninth victory in a game limited to 5½ innings because of rain. A scheduled second game was postponed. Rosen's homer, off Hal Griggs, was the 1,000th hit of his big league career. Letty Bob Wiesler was the loser.

The Pirates just got in under the wire with their nightcap victory over the Cubs, scoring a run in the fifth shortly before the game was called because of rain in the sixth. Newly-acquired Spook Jacobs singled home Eddie O'Brien with the only run of the game to give Laurin Pepper his first victory. The Cubs broke a 3-all tie in the eighth inning of the opener when Dee Fondy scored on an error and Walt Moryn homered. Frank Thomas homered for the Pirates. Klusze Vito Valentinetti was the winner and Roy Face the loser.

Billy Loes and Ray Moore were the winning Baltimore pitchers although Don Ferrarese snuffed out Detroit threats in both contests. The Orioles broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning of the first game when Willie Miranda nd Billy Gardner meked Steve Gromek for homers. Earl Torgeson homered for the Tigers. Baltimore clinched the nightcap with all three of its runs in the first inning off Frank Lary. Three singles and a double by Tito Francona did the damage.

Frank Baumholtz' pinch single with the bases full in the ninth inning of the nightcap made Philly reliever Jack Meyer a winner after Ken Boyer's 16th and 17th homers led the Cards to victory in the opener. Herm Wehmeier was credited with the victory while Curt Simmons suffered the loss.

Three home runs by Ed Bailey plus another one by Ted Kluszewski gave Cincinnati its opening game triumph over Brooklyn while Bob Thurman and Frank Robinson connected for the Redlegs in the nightcap. Joe Black and Joe Nuxhall were the winning pitchers.

Harry (Suitcase) Simpson drove in three of Kansas City's runs with a homer and a triple as Alex Kellner posted his fifth victory. Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen homered for Boston.

Sports Parade

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UP)— Major league pitchers are throwing the dancing knuckle ball more than ever this season as a defense against the strangely live horsehide pellet with which batsmen increasingly threaten mound prestige.

And pitching coach Dutch Leonard of the Chicago Cubs recommends that any hurler who does not know how to throw the knuckler should learn — "the sooner the better."

Murray Dickosn of the Cardinals, one of the smartest flingers in the majors, has regarded the knuckle ball as an important weapon in his big armory for a long time. But this season, he is concentrating on the fluttery pill and using it more than any other pitch.

Russ Meyer of the Cubs, noted previously for his screwball or reverse curve, has picked up the knuckler under Leonard's coaching this seaosn and expects to use it considerably when he recovers from a siege of tendonitis that has kept him on the sidelines.

Even Mickey Mantle, the Yankees' slugging centerfielder, has gone ga-ga over the knuckler. He has spent hours throwing it because of its fascination for him. And his mates say Mickey's pitch now is a dilly. Mantle has asked Skipper Casey Stengel to let him start a game on the mound if and when the Yanks clinch the pennant.

Stengel says, "If we do, I'll let Mickey start one. His knuckle ball is the best in the American League."

Coach Leonard of the Cubs is an expert on the knuckler because he used to throw one of the best dipsy-do's in the business. His campaign for its wider use is softpedalled only when he grieves for the catchers who have to handle the unpredictable pitch.

"It's tough on the catchers," he says, "but it's got to be used more and more. It's not only a difficult pitch to hit, but it hasn't got enough speed to add to the batter's power. In other words the hitter has to supply all the power to get distance with it. It deadens the lively ball."

The knuckler, which is gripped by the pitcher's fingernails in most cases, is a "sail pitch" that approaches the plate without any spinning of the seams. And it's thrown without any great effort or without any wrist snap as in the case of a curve, slider or screwball.

"You just sort of release the ball off the finger tips without a spin," Leonard explains. "And it's the way the air catches the stitching that causes it to do such screwy things. It certainly kept me in the majors a long time after I would have been through otherwise."

Leonard credits the knuckler for some of the success of the Pirate pitchers this season. He says every man on the Pirate staff throws the "crazy knuck."

Dickson throw knucklers about 75 per cent of the time last week in his three-hit shutout against the Dodgers. PeeWee Reese was the only player to get a solid smash at the ball. The Dodgers powerhitters were practically helpless against the tantalizing pitch that fools even the catchers.

Philley Fined $250 For Yankee Ruhbarb

CHICAGO, June 25 (AP) — Outfielder Dave Philley of the Chicago White Sox was fined $250 today by president Will Harridge of the American League for his fist fight with New York Yankee pitcher Bob Grim in the sixth inning of Saturday's game which the White Sox won, 2-0.

Philley stormed to the pitchers' mound after being hit by a pitched ball tossed by Grim and the two men started swinging before players from both teams broke it up.

Philley was ejected from the game but Grim was allowed to remain.

Only last week, Philley was fined $100 for a ball-and-strike dispute at New York with umpire Charley Berry.

NEW JAVELIN RECORD

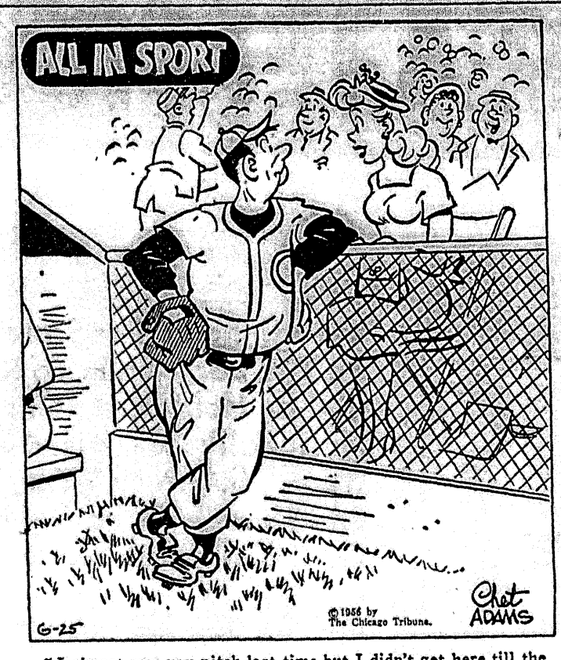
HELSINKI, Finland, June 25 (AP) — Finland's Soini Nikkinen bettered the world javelin record today with a throw of 274 feet, 1.83 inches. The established record is 268-2½ by Franklin (Bud) Held of San Francisco, who set the mark May 21, 1953 at Modesto, Calif.



"I almost saw you pitch last time but I didn't get here till the second inning. By that time, of course, you were gone!"

LAKE CHARLES, La., June 25 (AP)—Gene Johnson led off the bottom of the 10th inning with his 10th home run of the season tonight to give Lake Charles Giants a 7-6 victory over the Monroe Sports.

Johnson's blast came after Lake Charles had rallied three times to overcome Monroe advantage.

Three other home runs were hit in the game. Sid Harvey and Art Dillon homered for Lake Charles, and Bill Carr went the circuit for Monroe.

Ronnie Laumann took over the Lake Charles pitching in the 10th inning and received credit for the victory, his fourth against one defeat. George Bielik, Lake Charles starter, was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the ninth inning.

Mayer Wins 2nd Annual Philadelphia News Open

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 — UP —Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., held off a last minute bid by Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif., to win the second annual Philadelphia Daily News Open invitational golf tournament at the second hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday.

The slim, blond Mayer, who had led at the end of 54 holes with 18, carded a three-over par 71 on the final 18 for a tournament total of 269. Holscher, going into the final round three strokes behind, shot a par 68 to pull up even.

The issue was in doubt right down to the 18th hole when both men needed a par four to tie for the $4,000 first prize money. Both made it.

Immediately after the end of the regulation 72 holes, Mayer and Holscher trudged in brokling sunshine back to the first hole to begin the sudden death playoff in the $20,000 tournament.

Both carded par fours on the first hole. On the second, Holscher's second shot went over the green, hit a spectator's wheel chair and bounced back into a sand trap. His third shot also went over the green and he wound up with a bogie five.

Mayer's approach shot fell 12 feet from the pin. Playing slowly and methodically, Mayer sank the putt for a birdie three and the tournament. Holscher took home second prize money of $2,200.

Smiling broadly, Mayer, 33, credited his putter for giving him his first major win.

A crowd of over 17,000 spectators followed Mayer and Holscher around the last two holes of regulation play as word got around that they were even up.

Guatemala Clamps Form Of Material Law To Nip Plots

GUATEMALA (AP) — The Guatemalan government, announcing discovery of a Communist plot, has imposed a form of martial law on the country to "prevent seditious disorders."

President Carlos Castillo Armas' regime decreed a "state of alarm" after police broke up a mass meeting yesterday sponsored by the newly formed National Civic Committee.

Demonstrators at the gathering of about 400 persons outside the capital's railway station had distributed leaflets demanding cancellation of Guatemala's mutual aid pact with the United States and a lifting of the ban on Communist activities.

A goverment statement charged the meeting was part of "a subversive plot by Communists hiding within the territory of the republic to disturb the peace."

Six persons were arrested and telephone service was interrupted four hours. The state of alarm decree suspends a dozen or so constitutional rights and allows the government to prohibit public meetings, make arrests without warrants and impose censorship.

There was no interference with news dispatches sent abroad, however.

Anna Sten Says Marilyn Perfect For 'Karamazov'

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Could Marilyn Monroe act in "The Brothers Karamazov"? Another beautiful blonde who became a star with that role said today Marilyn would be "excellent" in part, but it's "very difficult."

Now that Marilyn is spoken for by longhair playwright Arthur Miller, her friends think he'll help her get such roles as that of Grushenka, the ambitious ex-floozy in the Dostoyevsky classic.

For an expert's opinion on the subject I dropped in on a glamour star from another generation, Anna Sten, in retirement for years but now planning a comeback.

The Russian actress left Moscow in 1931 to take the role in a German movie version of "Karamazov" and then played the same part in the French film. She also starred in the story on the stage in four different languages.

It was "The Brothers Karamazov" that brought Anna to Hollywood in 1932 after producer Samuel Goldwyn saw it.

When I asked Miss Sten about MM taking over the role she thought a moment and said slowly, "she'd be excellent for it. Very few people fit into that part.

"It's most difficult. It's not just sex. What can you do with sex in Siberia — freeze it Grushenka is part of a triangle between father and son. There are many complications in the story.

"But I don't see any reason why Marilyn couldn't do it. It was easy for me. But a lot of actresses, oh, a lot, have broken their necks on this part. It is quite an exacting role."

Miss Sten is remembered by film audiences also for "Nana," her first Hollywood movie. Despite Goldwyn's $2 million publicity campaign on her, she never quite "took" as a glamour star.

She appeared on and off in films but devoted much time to her husband, producer Eugene Frenke, and a career in painting. Her paintings have been exhibited all over the world "and I receive so many fan letters about them — it's wonderful."

Last week CBS-TV talked her out of retirement and into playing the role of a queen on the Red Skelton show. Now she has plans for TV dramas and a return to movies. Her last film was "soldier of Fortune," at 20th Century-Fox in 1947, but "four-fifths of my role landed on the cutting room floor."

"I have been so occupied with my painting I have done nothing about acting," said the gracious Miss Sten, still blonde with those beautiful blue eyes and handsome profile.

"But the Skelton show was such fun — such sweet poison! I am anxious to return to work."

To do "The Brothers Karamazov" again?

"Oh, no, I leave that to Marilyn," she laughed.

One-Time Jazz Musician Is Ordained Priest

BEACON, N. Y. (AP)—A jazz musician who was thumping a bass fiddle in a Manhattan hot spot 10 years ago has been ordained a roman Catholic priest.

Gate Frega—now Father John of the Cross—was ordained yesterday. He had spent years of study and meditation as a brother in St. Lawrence Capuchin Monastery here.

Father John, 39, said he "had an urge for the priesthood" when he went to school in Paterson, N.J. But he became a musician with Les Brown's dance band, the Army all-star band and, later, the Joe Mooney quartet.

"I don't believe that music and God are ever very far apart," Father John said. "The priesthood was always in the back of my mind. Even when I was up on the bandstand . . . I thought about it."

He still plays his bass fiddle with other musicians among the brothers "just for our own pleasure."

Father John will celebrate his first Mass next Sunday at St. Michael's Roman Catholic church in Paterson.

Nasser Captures Egypt Presidency In Landslide Vote

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser is the choice of more than 90 per cent of Egypt's voters to be the nation's first elected President.

The military dictator who masterminded King Farouk's overthrow was the only candidate in the voting Saturday. Egyptians also ratified a new constitution by a thumping 97.7 per cent vote, the Interior Ministry announced.

The ministry said about 94 per cent of the 5,720,000 registered voters took part in the country's first secret ballot election, and 99.7 per cent voted for Nasser. The only alternative was to vote against him.

An authoritative source said the new constitution gives Nasser the right to assume office without formal inauguration.

Nasser was slated to make his first public address as president at a dinner tonight at the Cairo Officers Club. He was expected to outline the formation of a National Union which will be the only political party under the new constitution.

The Cabinet which served under Nasser as premier is expected to resign when the election results are announced officially. But informants said Nasser would ask his ministers to stay in office until the National Assembly is elected in October.

The Cabinet is composed of 10 civilians and nine officers from the Revolution Council, which sparked the overthrow of Farouk in 1952.

Press reports said members of the Revolution Council are expected to form the executive committee of the new National Union.

The former council members would retain most of their power, since the union will have veto power over candidates for the Assembly.

Nasser and all other council members except Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, the army commander in chief, are resigning their military commissions.

Report Blacklist Of Entertainers In Three Fields

NEW YORK (AP)—The Fund for the Republic says blacklisting of entertainers is widespread in the movie, radio and television industries.

The practice is much less prevalent in the theater, the fund said.

In a two-volume, 599-page report, the fund said yesterday that blacklisting is "almost universally accepted as a fact of life" in Hollywood.

"All the studios are now unanimous in their refusal to hire persons identified as Communist party members who have not subsequently testified in full before the House Un - American Activities Committee," the report said.

"The studios are equally adamant about not hiring witnesses who have relied upon the Fifth Amendment before congressional committees."

The report said blacklisting is "more complicated" in the radio and television fields than in Hollywood.

In radio-TV, the report said, "advertising agencies, networks, program packagers and sponsors all have a voice in deciding who will be used.

"The result is a multiplicity of lists and procedures, different policies on different networks, the creation of a secret and labyrinthine world of political screening."

As for the legitimate theater, the report found "there is no organized blacklisting on Broadway," although the "normal criteria of personal choice—including politics—do operate to some extent."

The report said some producers "feel so strongly after leftwingers that they are loath to hire them; other producers may be similarly prejudiced against right-wingers. But there are no 'lists' which have universal force on Broadway."

The report, based on a study begun in September 1954, was prepared for the fund by John Cogley, former editor of the Commonweal, Roman Catholic lay magazine, and a staff of 10 reporters.

DRAFTEES and VETERANS GUIDE

FOR RESERVESTS, DRAFTEES, SERVICEMEN and VETERANS

By Major Thomas M. Nial

Paid-Up Scholarships

Congress has set up a government paid scholarship program for the children of men who died from injuries or dis- eases received in World War I World War II or the Korean War. It covers some 150,000 children and is expected to be under way by fall.

The program is designed to offer such children a change to get ed- ucation which they might have received, but for the death of their father.

In a general way, the program is similar to the education rights offered to veterans under the World War II and Korean GI bills.

The key to the program is a cash allowance to cover, in part, the subsistence, tuition, fees, supplies, books, equipment and other education costs. The schooling can be up to a maximum of 36 months which is enough to assure a full college bachelor's degree.

The cash allowance for a program of education consisting of institutional courses — that is, college, vocational schools, etc — is $110 per month for full - time schooling, $80 per month for three-quarter time schooling and $50 per month for half - time schooling.

The allowance for a full-time program of education consisting of institutional courses and training in business or industrial establishments, with the training strictly supplementary, is $90 a month. No part time courses of this type will be allowed.

The program can be used to get schooling at any public or private secondary school, vocational school business school, junior college, teachers' college, college, normal school, professional school, university, or any other institution which furnished education at the high school level or above.

However, the schooling can not be used to take strictly avocational or recreational courses, such as photography, bowling, dancing, swimming and the like.

And, it can't be used, among other things, for apprentice course, on-job or on-farm training, flying training, correspondence courses or courses in foreign countries.

In general, an eligible son or daughter can't start using the education rights until he or she finishes high school or reaches 18, whichever comes earlier. And ,in general, the schooling will not be offered to such children after their 23rd birthday.

These rules are stretched, however, for eligible sons and daughters who've already passed their 23rd birthday, but haven't reached their 31st, or for sons who've been serving or are serving on military duty.

The eligible son or daughter does not apply for the schooling directly to the Veterans Administration (VA) which will be running the program. Applications must be made by a parent or guardian. And, the VA must be brought in when it comes to choosing a course, since it's required to give counseling.

The VA will only allow the payment of the education allowance after the son or daughter and the educational institution have certified each month as to attendance. The allowance will be paid within 20 days after the VA has received the certifications.

If you have any further questions about the program, the VA will shortly have a complete summary at their local offices.

(You may write Major Nial in care of this newspaper about your service-connected problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents in coin.)

FLY CONTROL

Flies can be controlled by means of a complete cleanup and control campaign. A cleanup is the first step. Sanitation is the most important step in the continued control program. A sound fly control program needs leadership, with everybody supporting the program, continuous information and instruction for all the family, a vigorous sanitation program in which everybody takes part, and use of the right chemicals at the right time.
